"The house of lords doesn't have a great deal of power but it wields influence with government, with civil servants, with other opinion formers and the media."

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"

"The house of lords doesn't have a great deal of power but it wields influence with government, with civil servants, with other opinion formers and the media."

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"

"The report said Qatar has made it to the top 10 in part because the nation's efforts and strategy consultancy, puts the world's biggest brands to the test every year;"